Master Plan for Luxury Resort in The Maldives

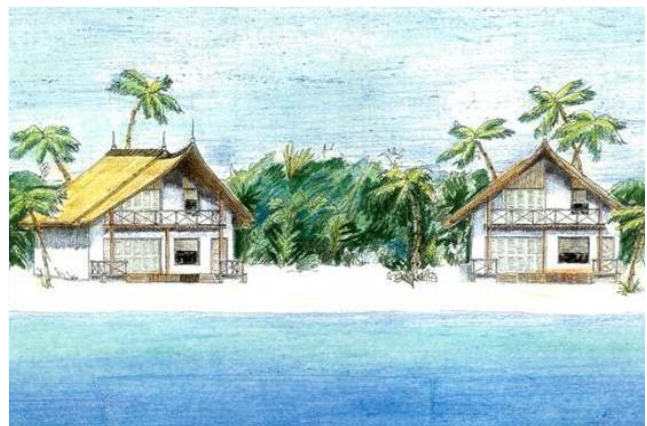

architects
project managers
cost consultants

JLA were commissioned and appointed to develop a self contained, and fully sustainable design for a remote island set within the Maldives.

By using the established experiences of master planning and design, coupled with the in house knowledge and commitment to sustainable technology, JLA responded to the brief set by the client, by developing a series of secluded and self contained holiday units, set within the island and around the shallower waters.

JLA set the design agenda, and led the consultant team to develop a fully sustainable and self reliant holiday complex, relying on the natural contours of the island, and the abundance of daylight and sea breeze, to offer the holiday experience of a lifetime, whilst being fully supportive of the natural environment.
